

Introduce Yourself

Can you tell me your full name?

Sure. My full name is Nguyen Phuc Anh Khoi. “Nguyen” is my family name, which is quite common in Vietnam.

Does your name carry any special meaning?

Yes, it does. My name “Khôi” means something pure or outstanding in Vietnamese, and my parents chose it because they wanted it to carry a positive meaning for me.

Where do you come from?

I’m from Vietnam, specifically Ho Chi Minh City, which is a large and dynamic city in the south of the country.

Could you describe your hometown?

My hometown is Ho Chi Minh City. It’s a dynamic and energetic place, known for its modern buildings, busy streets, and a wide variety of food.

What is your job or what do you do for a living?

I’m a programmer, and I mostly work on software development projects.

Family

Is your family big or small?

My family is quite small. It consists of my parents, my younger brother, and me, and we’re very close to one another.

How many brothers and sisters do you have?

I have one younger brother, and we’re quite close.

Which family member are you closest to?

I’m closest to my younger brother, as we share many interests and often talk about our daily lives.

Have you ever had a conflict with a relative? How did you handle it?

Yes, I have. In those situations, I prefer to listen first rather than argue, and then I try to find a reasonable way to resolve the issue.

Do you usually get along well with your family?

Yes, I do. Although we sometimes have minor disagreements, we generally get along well and have a good relationship.

Who is your favorite family member?

My favorite family member is my mother. She cares for me deeply and always looks after me.

What activities do you often do together with your family?

We usually have dinner together, which gives us a chance to talk about our day and spend some quality time as a family.

Education

What is your academic background?

My academic background is in economics, as I hold a bachelor's degree in this field. However, I'm currently studying information technology to better align my education with my career as a programmer.

Which subjects did you study at school?

I studied a variety of subjects at school, such as math, literature, and English, which helped build a solid foundation for my further studies.

Which subject did you enjoy the most?

The subject I enjoyed the most was math because it challenged me and helped improve my problem-solving skills.

Did you attend university?

Yes, I did. I attended university, where I studied economics and earned my bachelor's degree.

Do you have any study plans for the future?

Yes, I do. I'm planning to pursue a master's degree in IT abroad because I believe it will help me develop my career. I'm particularly interested in studying in Germany or Canada.

Do you usually take notes when you study or work?

Yes, I do, especially when I'm studying or learning something new. Taking notes helps me remember key points more easily and organize my thoughts better. I usually keep them short so I can review them quickly later.

Work

What kind of work do you do now?

I'm currently working as a programmer, and I mainly focus on software development projects.

What made you choose this career?

I chose this career because I enjoy logical thinking and coding, and I find the work both challenging and rewarding.

How did you manage to get this job?

I didn't study IT at university, but I took a short-term IT course and put a lot of effort into improving my skills. Fortunately, I was given the opportunity to get this job.

What are your career ambitions for the future?

My long-term career ambition is to become a software architect, where I can design well-structured and reliable systems and take responsibility for important technical decisions.

Are you happy with your current job?

Yes, I am. I'm quite satisfied with my current job because it allows me to work with logic and problem-solving, which I really enjoy.

Do you prefer working alone or in a team?

I prefer working in a team because I can share ideas and learn from others. It also helps solve problems more efficiently. However, for tasks that require deep focus, I don't mind working alone.

Do you enjoy learning new technologies?

Yes, I do, especially because I work as a programmer. Learning new technologies helps me improve my skills and stay updated in my job. I also find the process quite interesting and motivating.

Do you usually listen to music while working or studying?

It depends on the task I'm doing. When I'm working on routine tasks, listening to music helps me relax and stay focused. However, for more complex coding tasks, I prefer silence so I can concentrate better.

Hobbies

What are your favorite hobbies?

My favorite hobby is playing football. It helps me stay active and relax after work, and I also enjoy the teamwork and social aspect of the game.

When did you first start these hobbies?

I first became interested in football after watching the World Cup in Germany. It really inspired me, and since then I've enjoyed playing the sport in my free time.

How do you usually spend your free time?

In my free time, I usually play football to stay active and relieve stress. Besides that, I sometimes read about technology or practice coding, as it helps me improve my skills and relax at the same time.

Do you like reading? If yes, what type of books do you prefer?

Yes, I do. I enjoy reading, especially books related to technology and programming. I find them useful because they help me update my knowledge and improve my problem-solving skills.

How frequently do you do your hobbies?

I usually do my hobbies two or three times a week, depending on my workload. Whenever I have more free time, I try to play football more often to relax and stay healthy.

Why do you enjoy them?

I enjoy my hobbies because they help me relax after a long day at work and reduce stress. Playing football also allows me to stay physically active and spend time with friends, which I find very enjoyable.

Have your interests changed over time?

Not really. My interests haven't changed much over time. I've always enjoyed activities that involve logic and physical exercise, such as coding and playing football, and I still find them interesting today.

Do you prefer spending time indoors or outdoors? Why?

I prefer spending time outdoors because it helps me stay active and relax after work. Since I spend most of my day in front of a computer as a programmer, outdoor activities like playing football help me clear my mind. However, when I need to focus deeply on coding or studying, I'm comfortable staying indoors.

Do you usually plan your day in advance?

Yes, I usually plan my day in advance because it helps me stay organized and manage my time better. Having a clear schedule allows me to focus on my work and avoid unnecessary stress.

Do you often make plans for the weekend?

Yes, I usually make simple plans for the weekend so I can use my time more effectively. It helps me balance relaxation and personal activities without feeling rushed.

Do you like to keep your workspace tidy?

Yes, I do. A tidy workspace helps me stay organized and focus better, especially when I'm working on programming tasks. It also saves time because I can find what I need more easily.

Do you prefer using public transport or driving?

I usually prefer using public transport because it allows me to avoid heavy traffic and makes my commute less stressful. I can also use the time to relax or check my phone instead of focusing on driving.

Do you enjoy waking up early?

Yes, I do, because waking up early helps me feel more productive and organized during the day. I usually use the quiet morning time to plan my tasks or focus on important work.

Do you prefer watching movies at home or at the cinema?

I prefer watching movies at home because it's more comfortable and convenient. I can choose my own schedule and enjoy the film without distractions. However, for big blockbuster movies, I still enjoy the cinema experience.

Hometown

Where exactly is your hometown?

My hometown is Ho Chi Minh City, which is located in the south of Vietnam. It's a major economic hub and one of the most dynamic cities in the country.

What do you like the most about it?

What I like most about my hometown is its dynamic lifestyle and the wide range of opportunities it offers. There are always new things happening, especially in terms of work, food, and entertainment.

Is there anything you don't really like about your hometown?

Yes, there is. One thing I don't really like about my hometown is the heavy traffic, which often leads to air pollution. It can be quite stressful, especially during rush hours.

Are there any well-known places or attractions there?

Yes, there are. Ho Chi Minh City has several well-known attractions, such as Ben Thanh Market and the Notre-Dame Cathedral. These places are popular with both locals and tourists, as they reflect the city's history and culture.

Would you consider living in your hometown in the future?

I'm not completely sure at the moment. Right now, I'm hoping to study abroad and work in an international environment to gain more experience, so I haven't really decided whether I'll live in my hometown in the long term.

Can you describe your typical day?

On a typical day, I start my morning by getting ready for work and checking my schedule. During the day, I focus on my programming tasks, and in the evening, I usually spend time relaxing, playing football, or improving my skills through self-study before going to bed.

What time do you usually wake up and go to sleep?

I usually wake up at around five in the morning and go to bed at about ten p.m. I prefer keeping a regular schedule because it helps me stay productive and well-rested.

What do you usually do in the morning and in the evening?

In the morning, I usually get ready for work and spend some time reviewing my tasks for the day. In the evening, I like to relax by playing football or doing some self-study to improve my skills before going to bed.

Do you follow a fixed timetable or is it flexible?

I usually follow a fixed timetable, especially on weekdays. Having a structured routine helps me manage my time better and stay focused on my work and studies.

How do you normally spend your weekends?

On weekends, I usually take some time to rest and recharge after a busy week. I often play football with friends, and sometimes I also do a bit of self-study or catch up on things I didn't have time for during the week.

Weather

What kind of weather do you enjoy most?

I enjoy mild weather the most, especially when it's cool with gentle sunshine. I find this kind of weather very comfortable and suitable for outdoor activities.

Do you prefer warm or cold climates?

I generally prefer warm climates because they feel more comfortable for me and allow me to spend more time outdoors. I also find it easier to stay active in warmer weather.

Does the weather ever influence your mood?

Not really. My mood isn't strongly influenced by the weather, as I tend to focus more on my daily tasks and routines rather than external factors.

What is the climate like in your hometown?

The climate in my hometown is generally warm and tropical. It's usually hot and humid for most of the year, with a clear rainy and dry season.

Do you think people's behavior is affected by the weather?

I'm not completely sure, but I do think the weather can affect some people's behavior. For example, extreme heat or long periods of rain can make people feel tired or less motivated.

Food

What type of food do you enjoy the most?

I enjoy dishes with broth the most, especially noodle-based dishes. I find them comforting and easy to eat, particularly in warm weather.

Are you into cooking?

I wouldn't say I'm really into cooking, but I do go into the kitchen from time to time. I usually cook simple meals when I have free time.

Have you ever eaten something unusual?

Yes, I have. I enjoy trying unusual dishes, especially when I travel or have the chance to experience different cuisines.

Is there any food you dislike?

Yes, there are a few foods I don't really like, especially dried fish and onions. I'm not a fan of their strong smell and taste, so I usually try to avoid them when possible.

What is a traditional dish from your country?

A very traditional dish from my country is pho. It's a well-known noodle soup made with a rich broth, rice noodles, and usually beef or chicken. It's popular both in daily meals and with visitors to Vietnam.